[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

The Colored Convention.

NASHVILLE, April 29.—The colored Convention met and elected officers. Speeches were made favoring equal rights and resolutions were reported denouncing the unauthorized assertion that colored Southern Citizens want no civil rights and school privileges, asking Congress to pass the Civil Rights bill, and thanking Butler for his championship of their cause; also to appoint a committee to take measures looking toward the erection of a monument to Sumner in recognition of his friendship for the race. The resolutions were referred to a committee.

Perished in the Flames.

HARRISVILLE, Pa. April 29.—The residence of Henry Pennington was burned this morning. His two sons and daughters perished.

Honors Her Dead Senator.

BOSTON, April 29.—The city's tribute to the memory of Sumner in Music Hall this afternoon, in spite of the rainy weather was imposing. The audience, which crowded the hall to its utmost capacity, included members of the State and city Governments and the Legislature, Judges of courts and many prominent persons from other States. Senator Schurz, Orator of the Day, was introduced by Wendell Phillips.

[illegible] Destroyed by Fire.

PHILADELPHIA, April 29.—A fire broke out this morning between the decks of the New York steamship [illegible], lying here. The vessel and cargo, worth $500,000, will probably be a total loss.

WASHINGTON CITY.

[illegible] for the Improvement of Rivers and Harbors on the Pacific Coast.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The House Committee on [illegible] have finished the preparation of the annual river and harbor appropriations bill and will report it to the House shortly. It contains items of [illegible] for removing the wreck of the ship Paltravah from San Francisco harbor $20,000; for the improvement of the Willamette and Columbia rivers from Portland to the ocean and $20,000 for improvement of the Upper Columbia. The bill also contains provisions for surveys of the estuary in the Santa Barbara channel near Point Muger of San Antonio river from and including Hog's Back up to Colusa, of Feather river from the mouth to Marysville, and from San Joaquin river below Stockton. Surveys are also directed for the Dalles and the Cascades in Oregon, for Skagit, Snohomish and Chehalis rivers in Washington Territory and for [illegible] river in Idaho.

Luttrell is endeavoring with prospects of success to have the survey of the Sacramento river extend up to Tehama, instead of Colusa.

Other Congressional News.

Sargent to-day presented the letter of Lawrence Upson, protesting against the passage of Windom's bill providing for a readjudication of the claim for [illegible] on lands of San Buena Ventura. Upson alleges that the section of Squatters contains false [illegible], that it attempts to deceive Congress by garbled extracts from records which have no existence.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Delegate McGinnis' bill to remove the [illegible] Indian Reservation has passed both Houses, and has been signed by the President. The Marias river is fixed as the limit of the Reservation.

The Catholic Church Indian Commissioner nominated Owen Garrigan as Agent of the Flathead Indians in Montana, but Secretary Delano declined to appoint him on political grounds. The Catholics then [illegible] Peter Whaley who was appointed.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Peter Whaley as Agent for the [illegible] Indians in Montana, also that of K. Dunbar, as Register of the Land Office in Arkansas valley district, Colorado, also that of Jas. L. Mitchell [illegible] in the same district.

The nomination of McCook to be Governor of [illegible], was again discussed without action.

[illegible] T. Smith is confirmed as postmaster at Walla Walla.

A [illegible] with President Grant on the Financial Question.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—An offer having been made to President Grant about a compromise of the finance measure that would be acceptable to both sides the President replied that he did not know what force was intended to apply to the word [illegible] unless it was an agreement to carry [illegible] to the country. That might be construed a compromise by those who originally [illegible] proposition offered during the discussion in Congress, and by so agreeing have reason to believe that such legislation would meet with his [illegible]. It had been said that he promised in his annual message to heartily support any measure Congress might decide upon. He did not intend any such construction to be put upon his language. If he had not made himself understood his recent message would clear up anything like ambiguity. One thing he had endeavored to make plain during his administration had been that he was for carrying out the solemn pledges of the Government at the earliest day possible and to return to a specie basis.

The establishment of our currency on a gold and silver basis had been uppermost in his mind when ever he sent to Congress his annual messages. He had not said what kind of a bill he would approve. It was his earnest hope that Congress would dispose of the question of the redistribution of $21,000,000 of [illegible] currency with $5,000,000 in notes belonging to banks, and the banks in the south and west ought [illegible] for the present all that was asked for. He had been assured since his veto of the finance bill that New England banks were anxious to [illegible] their circulation inasmuch as that now held in circulation would be released and furnish them [illegible] capital for loan than they now have. While our securities were worth in legal tenders 16 and 17 cents above par and national banks were bound to be secured under existing law he did not wonder New England bankers were anxious to cancel their notes and get their bonds. In fact this suggestion was made to him early last fall, during the [illegible] in the money market. He thought it worth calling the attention of Congress to in his [illegible]. Since then he had heard nothing to change his opinion on this point.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Spanish War News.

BAYONNE, April 29.—The report that the Carlists have [illegible] Portugalete and San Tures is untrue.

[illegible] from the seat of war say Concha is [illegible] with 20,000 men to attack the Carlists at [illegible] in the rear, while Serrano makes simultaneous [illegible] in the front. The Carlists are reported [illegible].

A [illegible] Incident.

LONDON, April 29.—The London Dispatch says the [illegible] of the steamer Amerique were picked up in [illegible] in an open boat, by the Assyria from [illegible] to London. They arrived at that point [illegible] condition.

PARIS, April 29.—The Franco-American Postal [illegible] was signed yesterday by the Government, and will be submitted to the Assembly with [illegible] for immediate consideration.

[illegible] OF CONGRESS ON THE VETO.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Various interviews with [illegible] of the House have been had to-day in regard to the effect of the President's veto of the Finance bill. A Congressman from New England predicted that the veto would result in the disruption of parties. He approved what had been done by the President but said the feeling in the West and Southwest was so intense that it may array the sections against the party.

An advocate of the Senate bill and a decided [illegible] was asked what course he would pursue. His reply was that they did not know exactly what to do but that they would await further developments. They desire to see what action the Senate will take on the House bill which provides for free banking.

The statement which has been made that a large number of bills would be introduced was [illegible] by the members referred to. He adds that there is a sentiment in the House in favor of passing appropriation bills and then adjourning, leaving with the President the entire responsibility of non-legislation on finances. This proposition, it is not believed however, can find many supporters as the Western members especially and those who represent the Grangers' interests, will insist upon some definite action. It is believed the veto will prolong the session.

ANOTHER ERRING CLERGYMAN.—A dispatch from Wilkesbarre, Penn., April 19 says early in the present year Rev. R. H. Williamson, Pastor of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in this city was charged with frequenting disreputable houses, and with other conduct unbecoming a minister of the Gospel. He denied the charges, but the vestry acting upon what they considered strong proof deposed him from his pastorate, and lately appointed a committee of investigation. This week Mr. Williamson appeared before them and confessed his guilt. No final action has yet been taken in regard to his case.

RELIEVED FROM THE LICENSING ACT.—Both Houses of Congress have passed the bill providing that the act of 1793 for enrolling and licensing ships or vessels employed in the coasting trade shall not be construed as extending to canal boats or boats employed on the internal waters or canals of any State.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—In the Howden libel case after a recess, Delos Lake continued his argument bitterly denouncing Mike De Young's connection with the case, and concluding his address with an appeal to those who had witnessed Mrs. Howden's presence during the trial to produce a woman whose deportment stamps her more distinctly as a woman of virtue, modesty and uprightness. Not a word had been said against her but what Mike DeYoung said about her looking at him with an inviting smile. Mr. Barnes began his argument for the defense. After dwelling on newspaper libels in general and the exorbitant damages asked for he said there was nothing to show that the reporter who wrote the article in question did not get the most reliable information possible as to the circumstances of Howden's death; that Charles DeYoung told the city editor of the Chronicle to be careful what he published about the matter. The information was not rumor, but derived in the main from the Coroner. If the Chronicle was actuated by the motives ascribed to it the card of H. Howden would not have been inserted. Mr. Barnes concluded by appealing to the jury to look at the case dispassionately and not punish the DeYoungs for faults they never committed. The case will be continued to-morrow.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—The trial of Nush for the murder of Gresbach is still progressing at Martinez.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—On Market street near Sutter, Abraham Solomon, a boy about 16 years old, attacked a younger boy, Isadore Messinger. An elder brother of the latter interfered to stop the fight, when Solomon drew a pistol and threatened to shoot him. At this juncture Mrs. Messinger went to stop him and caught hold of the pistol. In the struggle the weapon was discharged, shooting off one of Mrs. Messinger's fingers and hitting Solomon in the head, killing him almost instantly.

Woman Suffrage.

The fifth anniversary of the meeting of the California Woman's Suffrage Convention is now in session, Mrs. A. J. Duniway presiding. Resolutions were presented recommending a memorial to be sent to members of Congress from the Pacific coast, to protect women owning property who are justified in refusing to pay taxes [illegible] denied the right of franchise.

Interior California.

SANTA CRUZ, April 29.—Sheriff Orton returned at five this evening with news of the capture of the two highwaymen who robbed the San Jose stage yesterday. They passed the night scouring the country in all directions and finally came on them about 10 o'clock this morning, lying in an old deserted building about 12 miles from Lexington, in the direction of Pescadero. They were apparently pretty well fatigued and manifested much surprise on being discovered, immediately after which they began to show fight. They fired twice without effect and Mountain Charley returned them both, assisted by Mr. Newell, who also fired one shot at the robbers. The last two shots took effect in the arm of one of the robbers without doing much harm and they concluded to surrender. The posse of men who made the arrest numbered four, all from this place except Mountain Charley, who lives near the scene of the robbery. Sheriff Adams took the prisoners with him followed by a guard of armed men to San Jose, the deed having been committed in Santa Clara county.

SAN JOSE, April 29.—Sheriff Adams arrived here this afternoon with the two men who robbed the Santa Cruz stage yesterday. Their identity is certain. All the plunder is recovered and they are safely lodged in jail. They give their names as Isaiah Pierce and Harry Edwards. They are strangers here and say they are from Stockton.

CALISTOGA, April 29.—Commenced raining at 10 o'clock this morning and continued at intervals the balance of the day. Wind south.

There will be a meeting of the members of the Congregational Church at Forest Grove Saturday of this week, to elect a pastor for the next year and to do other Church business.

Last Saturday evening twelve members of the Forest Grove Good Templars Lodge withdrew from the Society because a gentleman who made application for membership was black balled.

Forest Grove Lodge No. 136, I. O. G. T. met Saturday evening, April 25th. It being the regular evening for elections the following officers were elected: For W. C. T., Dr. Bowlby; W. V. T., Mrs. M. E. Baxter; W. S., H. C. Leiser; W. F. S., J. Goodell; W. M., David Hake; W. C., M. E. Blown; W. O. G., A. W. Cornett.

On Dairy Creek, in Washington county, the farmers are busy plowing and seeding. Much new land is being cleared and broken and put in grain this spring. Mr. Tusby, who has bought within the past year a timber farm a mile and a half east of Greenville, is literally hewing his way into the woods and is now planting corn where lately fir trees grew.

Bishop Morris made his annual visitation to Astoria on Sunday last, and preached at Grace Church both morning and evening. His sermon in the morning was addressed by request particularly to the Order of Odd Fellows, who attended in a body. In the evening the sermon was addressed to young men and was listened to by a large and attentive congregation.

Col. I. H. Cann of the State Educational Department informs the Record that the distribution of school money to the different districts for the current year has already been delayed a month, owing to the fact that some of the counties have not yet paid up their proportion of interest money collected. The Board expects to make distribution on or before the 15th of May coming.

At a regular meeting of McMinnville Lodge No. [illegible] I. O. G. T. held Friday evening, April 24th, the following members were elected officers to serve the ensuing term, to wit: Capt. Chas. Handley, W. C. T.; Miss Sarah Bean, W. V. T.; H. W. Hill, W. S.; John Boston, W. F. S.; Mrs. J. D. Robb, W. T.; J. B. Handley, W. M.; Prof. M. Bailey, W. C.; Mrs. L. C. Dallas, W. I. G.; Wm. Duncan, W. O. G.

We learn from the Independent that on last Wednesday about noon, while several children were playing with the turn-table in Cornelius, Miss Adah Langworthy, daughter of A. J. Langworthy of that place and about 12 years of age, fell between the table and the end of the track and was instantly crushed to death. She was caught at the waist, her arm broken and her breast crushed, killing her instantly.

The crops in Polk county are reported to be in excellent condition and looking well. A very large acreage has been sown in grain in that county this year. In fact it is estimated the entire amount of land cultivated this year will be much in excess of that of former ones. The Statesman is informed that one farmer alone will have one thousand acres of land sowed in grain, which is certainly very good for our young State. But the more the better.

The Washington county temperance mass meeting was held at Hillsboro on Saturday afternoon, April 25th, and was organized by electing J. G. Stevenson Chairman and J. J. T. Martin Secretary. On motion the meeting proceeded to elect by acclamation seven delegates to the Oregon State Temperance Convention to be held in Portland on May 6th 1874. The delegates chosen were Wm. McKee, T. D. Humphreys, J. R. Spencer, R. P. Robinson, George Corey, J. B. Burlington, C. H. Walker.

Mr. John Newsom, of Howell's Prairie, Marion county, informs the Record that a much larger acreage is being sowed to wheat than ever before, and that the prospects never were better for a large crop. Wheat will be sown through this week and plows are running lively on the prairies and hills, making the most of the pleasant weather. Mr. R. Lee of Brooks Station says that fall wheat looks better than ever before; there is none drowned out or winter killed, and that was more than could be said last year when crops were better than ever before.

On the 21st of April Daniel Clark, Master of the Oregon State Grange Patrons of Husbandry, organized the first Grange in Clatsop county on Clatsop plains with 15 male and 9 female charter members. BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The Nanaimo paper advocates the abolition of the grand jury.

A company of militia—thirty six strong—has at length been formed at Nanaimo.

The Princess Royal, when discharged cargo, will leave Victoria for the Sound, to load spars for England.

Mr. T. Twentyman accidentally shot himself in the knee at Brown's mill, Dog creek, and is likely to die of the effects.

On last Monday night a man fell overboard from from the bark Mariano loading at Burrard's Inlet, and was drowned.

Victoria is constituted a port for the registration of shipping. The Collector of Customs is appointed Register in the Province.

The Prince Alfred grounded off Shoal Point recently and lay there several hours. Captains complain that the channel is filling up.

The Vancouver Coal Company imported by the Shooting Star a new hoisting engine which will be used in discharging ballast at Newcastle.

Messrs. Perkins and Guy, of Nanaimo, were precipitated from a canoe into the water a few days ago. They were saved just as they were going down the last time.

All the material with the exception of a little lumber, has been landed at Point Atkinson for the lighthouse. The foundation will be finished in about ten days.

H. M. S. Tenedos has received orders to proceed to Valparaiso, there to receive on board a party of English, French and German scientists and convey them to the Sandwich Islands to observe the transit of Venus.

The following is the summary of the wash up of the three lucky Lightning creek companies for the week ending April 25th: Van Winkle, 160 ounces; Victoria, 230 ounces; Vancouver, 311 ounces. Total, 701 ounces.

Thirteen English meadow larks, imported by Capt. Roscoe, M. P., were brought up to Victoria by the Prince Alfred. They left England six weeks ago, are lively, and seem to be none the worse for their long and somewhat exposed passage.

Up to the present time $300,000 in round numbers has been expended in the Lane & Kurtz effort to compel the Meadows on Williams creek to yield up the golden treasure presumed to be therein deposited. The work is still going on.

A dispatch to the Victoria Standard, dated at Ottawa, April 23d, says: A private cablegram has just been received which states that the British Government has decided to grant the thirty thousand pounds for Esquimalt Dry Dock.

The balance in the Government savings banks of the Province of British Columbia on the 30th of June 1873 was $530,663.70, and in those of Nanaimo $58,974.53, while in New Brunswick the amount was under a million. It will be seen that the figures indicate more provident habits in the Pacific Province.

The Indians of British Columbia held a grand potlach near Victoria last week. There were present between 2,500 and 3,000 Indians—men, women and papooses—and a very large quantity of blankets and other iktas were distributed among them. Good order was maintained throughout the festivities and very few cases of drunkenness were to be seen.

The Victoria Colonist of April 8th says: The steamer Isabel took a diver to the Ethie yesterday, who put on armor and descended. He reported both masts gone. The anchors fast in the bows but the chains hanging down. He also professes to have made the ghastly discovery that there are three dead bodies floating in the cabin. The vessel will be righted in a few days.

The settlers of Sooke are greatly exercised by the appearance in the forest of a crazy man who is roaming about with a rifle and bowie knife. He threatens to cut every one he sees and has thrown the settlement into a state of great alarm. His food consists of birds and other small game which he shoots and devours raw. It is said that he formerly belonged to Nanaimo, was confined as a lunatic and subsequently discharged cured.

James D. Loring, who was one of the owners in the celebrated Diller claim on Williams creek, died at the hospital in Victoria on Sunday of lung fever, aged 40. The Diller claim yielded $150,000 within six months after pay was reached and made its three owners—Diller, Curry and Loring—independent. Diller married and settled down on a farm in Pennsylvania. Curry lost his fortune in mining enterprise and died in Southern California a year or two ago. Loring was comparatively poor at the time of his death.

SCHENCK IN WASHINGTON.—General Schenck has been warmly greeted here, and has every night met some of his old Congressional friends at dinner. Sir Edward Thornton gave him a splendid banquet, for the General has always spoken well of Sir Edward in London and has done some kind acts for him there. General Schenck has been improved in personal appearance by British beef and beer and is in excellent spirits. One of his best stories is that of his initiation of some of the nobility into the mysteries of draw poker.—Wash. Corr. N. Y. Herald.

THE TERRITORIES.

The temperance movement in Seattle has been a success up to this time.

Some two miles of railroad iron are said to have been shipped from San Francisco for the Seattle coal mines.

William H. Wallace and Frank Spinning of Pierce county, W. T., have been appointed Notaries Public by Gov. Ferry.

The upper portion of White river back of Seattle is becoming well filled with logs being driven down from a camp above.

Great preparations are being made in Seattle for the May Day party—commencement on the Seattle and Walla Walla Railroad.

The schooner Dreadnaught, from Port Townsend, is lying at Yesler's wharf, Seattle, discharging flour, feed, and freight generally.

William Zohns has been adjudged insane by the Probate Court of Kitsap county, W. T., and committed to the asylum for treatment.

The Colorado Chieftain, published at Trinidad, says that a pure vein of coke, eight feet thick and underlying about one hundred acres, has been discovered in that county.

On Saturday last a man named Spencer, while, to use his own expression, "pretty well ginned up" at Gahu Jack's whisky saloon near Port Blakely, fell over a stump and broke his right thigh bone.

From the Courier we learn that Hon. Francis Henry was presented with a horse by the citizens of Olympia a few days ago. He was a tall, raw-boned, specter-like animal. The donee did not look in his mouth.

Mr. Thos. P. Higgins, from Cadyville, arrived at Lowell, Snohomish county, W. T., Wednesday evening, April 22d, intoxicated; he drank very freely during the evening, with friends, and was next morning found dead in his bed.

The Board of Directors of the Western Washington Industrial Association held a meeting last week at Olympia, when committees were appointed and matters arranged for the forthcoming fair. The Board adjourned to the call of the President.

The indebtedness of the corporation of Olympia was something less than $8,000 at the close of the fiscal year ending March 1, divided as follows: Old notes, $6,[illegible]; estimated interest thereon, $1,500; outstanding warrants new series, $812.05.

The Central Reporter reports that a very rich lode was discovered in the Cariboo tunnel two days ago. The ore vein is six inches in width and is largely composed of galena, through which are disseminated nodules of solid native silver, varying in length from one to two inches, and from half an inch to an inch in thickness.

The Denver News of the 14th ult. says: A man named Sam Perry, from San Luis valley, was murdered on Sunday at a place known as the Jew's Rancho, one mile north of the Summit house in the Sangre de Christo pass, by the proprietor of the place. It is not known whether the murder was committed for money or in a quarrel. The only witness present was a small boy.

A negro barber was killed Sunday, April 12th, at Cariboo, by an Irishman named Reynolds. It appears that the barber attacked Reynolds with a razor, whereupon the latter drew a knife and stabbed the negro a number of times in the abdomen and breast, resulting in instant death. The people of Cariboo justified Reynolds, and insisted that he should not be arrested.

On Tuesday last week a Chilian who was working on the lumber pile at Port Madison got two of his fingers broken. On Wednesday a colored man who was wedging off got severely crushed by a heavy piece of timber falling on him, and on the same day a Chilian who was working on the rolling tier cut himself badly with an ax. Also on Thursday a Peruvian who was working at the edger was struck over the head by a sliver from the saw.

On the evening of April 16th Farrell, who escaped from the jail at Port Madison, was re-arrested near Port Blakely and taken back to his old quarters. On the same night, about 10 o'clock, Edward Seybert, another of the escaped prisoners, called on Mr. Robert Fenton at his fishing station and asked to be ferried across to the mainland. Mr. Fenton requested him to remain for the night and he would do so early next day. He gave him his supper and bed and next morning took him in his boat to Port Madison and delivered him to the Sheriff. White is still at large, but it is thought he will be captured.

At the last meeting of the Olympia Common Council a committee was appointed to take into consideration the subject of discrimination in the rates of freights and passengers on the Northern Pacific Railroad contrary to the provisions of an act of the Legislature of Washington Territory passed at the last session, entitled "an act to prevent extortion and unjust discrimination in the rates charged for the transportation of passengers and freight on railroads in this Territory," with instructions to report at the next meeting of the Board, said committee being empowered to employ such legal advice as they may deem proper in the premises.

McMINNVILLE COLLEGE.

ALBANY, April 29, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

As many readers of your paper are interested in the prosperity of the McMinnville College, an item relative to the institution may not be amiss. The Executive Board met some days since in that quiet town and received a gratifying report in regard to the progress of the school for the last year. Professors Bailey and Robb, with the assistant teachers, have proven themselves to be efficient educators. Part of the time 160 or 165 bright intelligent students have been in attendance. The people in the vicinity show that they are people amongst whom a good school can be fostered. By a large majority the people of that district cast a vote, the effect of which was to cause the common school fund to aid the College, which it secured to the district a greater amount of good teaching for less money than it otherwise could have done. Viewed from a financial standpoint, though the College is far from being in as good condition as we desire, yet the amount accruing from tuition and the endowment raised from contributors will, we hope, be sufficient to insure present demands and insure future stability and success. Some scholarships have been taken by liberal men for the benefit of unfortunate orphans. In addition to this the financial agent has paid for an additional scholarship for the benefit of young ministers, or ministers' families—the beneficiaries to be designated by the financial agent during his life; after his decease, to be designated by the Executive Board. For the ensuing year the benefit is tendered to that worthy young minister, Mr. McCutchen.

McMinnville enjoys immunity from saloons, the horrid mania, the terrible curse that blights most of our towns. There was formerly one at that place, but pious devoted ladies visited the proprietor in behalf of suffering humanity and prayerfully in the love of Christ requested him to abandon a business which, though legal, is yet destructive to body and soul, and he closed out. I hope that gentleman may be very successful in other business.

LIFE OF SUMNER.—Sumner's biographer will have such a mass of material, especially of correspondence, as has never been left by any man in this country except Washington. Dr. Phelps, of Boston, began the task three or four years ago, but was not acceptable to Sumner's friends. C. Edwards Lester is now engaged on a biography of the Massachusetts Senator, and George Alfred Townsend is preparing a record of his eventful life.—Washington Correspondence N. Y. Herald.

A REMARKABLE SWINDLE.

ARREST OF LOUISA GERMS, WHO SIMULATED DEATH TO DEFRAUD AN INSURANCE COMPANY.

NEW YORK, April 11.—On the 9th of March the Board of Health issued a permit for the burial of the body of Louisa Germs, aged 23, who had died that day at the house of Dr. Uling, 160 Eldridge street, on whose certificate of the cause of death the burial permit was granted. The funeral and interment followed. It was soon rumored that Uling and Miss Germs had been engaged and that the Doctor had taken out a policy of $10,000 in the Merchants' Life Insurance Company, which policy was to revert to him in case of her death. Suspicions followed that the death of the young woman was the result of malpractice, and an affidavit to this effect was made and submitted to the Coroner. He sent for Uling, who expressed great sorrow for Miss Germs' death, and insisted that she died a natural death. The insurance company was not satisfied and the Coroner ordered the body to be exhumed and issued a warrant for the arrest of Uling, he to await the result of the investigation. The disinterment took place to-day, and the coffin was taken to the morgue and opened, when, instead of a body, were found nineteen bricks wrapped in paper and kept in place by laths.—Associated Press Dispatch.

THE WHOLE PLOT DISCOVERED.

The circumstances connected with the bold attempt to swindle the Merchants' Life Insurance Company out of $10,000 by Dr. Uling, of 95 Second avenue, and his confederate Louisa Germs, were fully developed yesterday by the arrest of the woman and her full confession. Detectives Tilly and Heidelberg received information early yesterday that Louisa Germs was living with a family named Wechsler, at No. 13[illegible] East One-hundred and ninth street. The detectives went to the house in One-hundred and ninth street and arrested her. Mrs. Wechsler expressed great surprise, the woman having responded to an advertisement in one of the German papers and brought with her a letter of recommendation from Dr. Uling. When informed of the charge against her the woman did not deny her guilt, but stated that she had read of the arrest of Dr. Uling in the morning papers and had intended to leave the house during the day, fearing arrest. She was taken to police head quarters and locked up. On the way down she was very communicative and told the story of the conspiracy without reserve. She exclaimed, "What will my father say? He thinks I am dead!" Her father, who lives at Foster's Meadow, a short distance from Jamaica, L. I., had been cruelly misled by Dr. Uling, with the consent of his daughter, into the belief that she was dead. The woman is bright and intelligent and tells her story in a clear, straightforward manner. She made the acquaintance of Dr. Uling while she was living as a servant with the family who occupied the house where the Doctor had his office, at No. 95 Second avenue. They became very intimate and the Doctor agreed to marry her. He finally suggested the plan of having their lives insured jointly, and by her simulating death and going through the forms of a funeral they would defraud the company of the amount of the policy. She was to receive as her share $2,500. The Doctor had also agreed to marry her and with the money obtained from the life insurance company they were to return to Germany and live there. She knew that the Doctor was married, but said his wife was old and that he did not care anything about her. She claimed to have been sick when Dr. Kantrowitz was called in to see her, but denied that an abortion had been performed. Dr. Uling whitened her face to give it a death-like appearance and she lay right in bed in the room at No. 160 Eldridge street, with a sheet thrown over the upper part of her body. In order to guard as much as possible against discovery, Dr. Uling measured her, and gave the order to the undertaker for the coffin, mentioning the length and width. The body was exposed to the view of friends who called for one hour, at the expiration of which time the undertaker and his assistant came with the coffin, and busied themselves with preparations for making the body ready for burial. Dr. Uling was in the room at the time. As soon as the assistant left the room, the supposed corpse, who had been intensely terrified at the thought of being placed in the coffin, suddenly sprang out of bed to the astonishment of the undertaker. She was caught by the Doctor, who endeavored to quiet her apprehensions. Frank, the undertaker, it was obvious, must now be won over, as the attempt to impose on him had failed through the lack of nerve on the part of the young woman. He was offered $250 by the Doctor to say nothing and assist in carrying out the fraud. Finck agreed to it. It was decided that bricks should be placed in the coffin and these were obtained, wrapped in cloth, and packed in the coffin as described. By advice of Dr. Uling the witness went out to service. She left the house on the morning of the funeral and did not return. The only persons so far as she knew who were cognizant of the proposed fraud beside herself are Dr. and Mrs. Uling and the undertaker. When Dr. Kintz was called in during her pretended illness she simulated convulsions, and to carry out the deception had placed soap in her mouth to lead the doctor to believe that she was frothing at the mouth. Soon after being brought to police head quarters she was confronted separately with the other persons who have been taken into custody. When identified Finck confessed the part he had taken. He fully corroborated the statements made by Louisa Germs and regretted that he had not sooner made a confession. He was poor and the offer of $250 had been too much for him to refuse. Mrs. Uling was then brought into the room. When asked if she knew the woman she replied, "That is the dead girl," and added that she knew her. She said that the last time she saw her the girl was ready to be placed in the coffin. Dr. Uling was then brought in. On seeing him the woman gave a cry and started toward him. He gave her a warning look and she sank back into her seat. He was asked if he had anything to say and replied that he had not; that he had not as yet made up his mind to say anything on the subject. He and his wife were locked up in separate cells. The prisoners will be taken before the sitting magistrate at the Tombs this morning and an examination held. The coffin with the bricks was removed from the Morgue to Police Headquarters yesterday. It was viewed during the day by a curious throng. Louisa Germs laughed when she saw it and was apparently inclined to treat the matter as a joke.—N. Y. Tribune, April 14.

PUGET SOUND ITEMS.

It is rumored that brick are to be used in building business houses at Tacoma.

The steamer Zephyr, on the ways undergoing a refitting for the summer trade, will be launched next week at Seattle.

Major Hibbard, Captain Ainsworth, Vice President Wright, Gen. Sprague and others are holding daily sessions at Tacoma, considering railroad matters.

Two car loads of mules, horses and sheep were taken over the road from Kalama on the 18th inst. and an unusually large number of passengers for the Sound.

Wells, Fargo & Co.'s messenger (one of the three) acting also as mail agent, makes the trip daily from here to Tacoma, each one going and coming the whole distance.

The three large public schools at Seattle, now under the Superintendency of Prof. Hall, are in prosperous condition, with large attendance, under full corps of experienced educators.

The traveler and tourist can reach the Sound and Victoria now with comfort via the railroad. Probably many who have never visited the Sound, with its towns, its scenery and great expectations, may do so this season.

A Chicago judge has decided that the epithet "shyster" as applied to a lawyer is libelous. Lawyer Busby, of that city, is the aggrieved party and The Chicago Times is the defendant.

FORT WRANGELL AND VICINITY.

[FROM AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT.]

[We have a "one horse" correspondent at the above mentioned place who had promised—and is now keeping that same—to supply us with reliable items from that locality. Let us introduce him as a veritable Truthful Jeems.]

FORT WRANGELL, April 18, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Wrangell is the proper orthography for the name of this fort, while Stikine is the correct spelling for what is commonly known as Stickeen, and Cassiar is the correct spelling for Cassiar. The first takes its name from a celebrated Russian navigator, while the others come from the Indians.

Our town is improving slowly. Three new store houses are in process of erection and trade quite active, considering. Population about one thousand, including Indians, Russians, &c. We have four stores with fair stocks of goods, one regular saloon and three or four other places where liquor is sold by the drink, two restaurants, one bakery and one dance house. The principal lodging place is kept by Sprawl & Bush. The following merchants are doing business here: A. Martin, W. J. Stevens, C. Brown, S. Goldstone and W. K. Lear. The latter gentleman has a fine new store building, with a large and well selected stock of general merchandise, and appears to be doing an extensive business. He is also proprietor of the town, and owns all the tenements (some twenty, I believe) but two or three. Aside from his merchandise business he is connected with Charles B. Pond in forwarding and Commission and agents for the steamers and Express Company. Mr. P. has charge of the forwarding, &c.

WRANGELL IS BEAUTIFULLY LOCATED

On the west side and near the north end of the island by the same name, is about seventy miles from the open sea and six miles directly south of the mouth of the Stikine river.

Since the 10th of March the weather has been delightful, only two cloudy days with light rain. The climate appears to me to be about the same as that of Portland. I imagine any of the ordinary vegetables can be grown here. I have never seen better potatoes in any country than are raised by the Indians. As a general thing this island and those surrounding, as well as the main land, is covered with a dense forest of spruce, hemlock, yellow and red cedar. The timber is superior for lumbering purposes to that of the Columbia river or Puget Sound, and would be of immense value if once in market. The islands abound in game—deer, bear (different varieties), beaver, marten or sable and fox (three or four species), and grouse (several varieties). The sea appears to be almost alive with every variety of the finny tribe as well as shell-fish of many kinds. Really and truthfully the resources of this country are wonderful, and in but a few years the fact will be demonstrated that in Alaska Uncle Sam made a grand investment.

NO NEWS FROM THE MINING REGION

For nearly two weeks. The river is open as far down as the Hudson Bay Company's Post, and has been for ten days, but is closed from the mouth up a distance say forty or fifty miles. It is confidently expected that it will be open for navigation by the 1st of May. The miners are, no doubt, by this time, hard at work in their claims—those that have them—and we will probably have quite a shipment of gold dust early next month. The whole of the great Dease Lake Basin will be thoroughly explored and prospected the coming summer. You may also look out for rich quartz discoveries in Alaska the present season. Northward that Star of Empire is taking its way, and if some enterprising prospector does not discover the long sought-for North Pole before the Ides of November, I will lose my reputation for veracity.

And while I think about it, what a field is here for the Crusaders of Portland. Why could not a band of them be prevailed upon to move this way? If they didn't do any good they could do no harm. We would like to hear and see them. Good bye until the river opens.

FRIDAY MORNING MAY 1 1874.

BE CAREFUL HOW YOU VOTE.

And the reason why you should be especially careful in the election just about to come off is that somehow or other the Louisiana outrage is likely to be repeated and two of the three candidates for Congress would, if elected help to perpetrate it. This we prove by the following passage from the Evening News:

Louisiana still presents a hideous aspect in American politics. Its condition is one of the gravest possible questions that is presented to the consideration of the American voter. It is a question that the voters of Oregon ought to consider in the coming election. Do they want a man in Congress who will vote to maintain the Kellogg usurpation? who will allow Morton to crack the party whip over his back on this question? Mr Williams is just such a man and Mr Davenport is probably not different from him in this respect. True Mr Williams is a man who admits no convictions on leading public questions yet his party connections make it certain that he will vote to sustain all that the Administration has done. Mr Davenport will likely do the same thing, from his long-conceived and firmly fixed notion that the negroes of the South are the only class fit to govern there and that the white Southerner is a criminal who ought to expiate his offenses under the absolute domination of the negro. One of these men is the slave of his party and the other of his prejudice.

So far as the polygamy candidate, Mr. Williams, is concerned, we supposed it is probably true that, having no convictions on political questions, as he himself confesses he would, if in Congress, 'go with his party to any length its leaders might see fit to lead him, without stopping to look very critically into the principles involved or the results to be produced.'

But what ground has the News for supposing Davenport would lend his assistance to any outrages that might be proposed to be committed under the name of Republicanism and for the purposes of party? The demands, or imagined demands, of party was all that prompted the commission of the frauds that set up the Kellogg Government over the manifest wishes of the people of Louisiana, and that corrupted the bench to keep the swindle from collapsing. But for this party spirit the abominations of the Louisiana muddle never would have existed. Now, Mr Davenport has been one of the first to repudiate and denounce the wrongs perpetrated upon the people, North and South, under the name of party. If he were a man incapable of rising above his early prejudices, would he not have clung to his party associations throughout? That would be naturally expected of a man whose reason was obscured by prejudice. That Davenport has refused on all occasions to defend the wrongful acts of his party, is conclusive evidence that he is capable of being just and of seeing the right whether in favor of his party or of the opposition.

But there is no alternative to voting for one of these two men. It is "Hobson's choice" if neither of them is fit for the position. We are not aware that there is any other candidate in the field, and it is certainly a little late now to think of getting out a third man. The Democrats have no candidate. They have to choose between ring Republican Dick and Independent Tim. The man the Democrats talked of running did not come to time, and the thing is going by default so far as they are concerned. If you are afraid Kellogg will usurp the Government of Oregon, the only way to prevent it—unless Tim or Dick can be relied upon—is to call a Democratic Convention and nominate some man who is reliable.

AN UNJUST CRITIC

The Sacramento Union, representing the California feeling that since California has direct communication with the East and Oregon has not, it is for the advantage of the former to prevent all further assistance to the construction of railways across the continent, criticises the platform of the Independents of Oregon very severely for its declaration in favor of Government aid to railways, and especially the road from St Joe to Junction and the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake road. The Union declares, in substance, that this is a surrender of all the principles involved in the Independent movement. This is not to be wondered at, inasmuch as it is well known that California newspapers, outside of the city of San Francisco where a broader view is taken, make a hobby of the question of the rights of corporations, one class warmly advocating, and the other class opposing, anything the railway companies see fit to ask, just or unjust, reasonable or unreasonable. The lengths to which the corporation tyranny has gone in California have driven the opposition to extremes. The Union is not less unreasonable in its opposition to, than are the corporation organs in their advocacy of, the interests of the corporations. Aggregated capital is necessary to the development of any new country. Because in California and elsewhere, under a loose and neglectful—sometimes a corrupt—system of making and administering the laws, the corporations have obtained undue power, and used it for unrighteous purposes, does it follow that all encouragement to the combination of capital for legitimate enterprises is inherently wrong and necessarily dangerous? Certainly not. So long as the corporations are kept within the same limits as to their rights and powers which are imposed upon individuals engaged in similar business, as the Independents of Oregon demand they shall be, so long will they be a benefit and not an injury to the people. It is not the existence of the corporations that is the evil, but their being set above the laws of the country. The Independents of Oregon have taken the only tenable ground on this subject, and the future will prove it no matter how many mad caps want to prohibit all combinations of capital for great enterprises, and reduce the country to a state of Communism that would deny to industry and enterprise, their rewards and substitute stagnation for growth.

We mentioned on the 29th ult. the receipt of a letter from the Dalles, charging a member of the Portland Custom House ring with swindling a working man out of about $1 500 of wages earned at the Warm Springs Agency and that the specifications were of such a serious character that we declined to give particulars without a full investigation of the facts. We were unwilling to do the party referred to the possible injustice of publishing a charge of such gravity against him so long as there was any possibility of the facts being different from our report of them. But it is evident that the person referred to did not need to be told that it was he to whom the letter pointed. The squirming of the bribers organ over the matter indicated pretty clearly that the shot went straight to the mark.

Where the pin enters there the flesh will quiver
Where the knife is drawn the blood will follow

The Samana Bay Company are disposed to make a fuss over the action of the authorities of San Domingo in annulling their lease and dispossessing them of what they look upon as their property. The directors of the Company held a meeting recently in New York city and adopted a statement of grievances, which sets forth that the Company will appeal to the Government of the United States to be reinstated at Samana. According to this paper the Company has received no revenue for an entire year although they had paid in advance rent to the amount of $1[illegible],000. The Company will demand from the present Government of San Domingo indemnity for damage done by the declaration in its manifesto that the lease of Samana was an illegal and arbitrary act of ex President Baez, whereas according to the Company it was the unanimous act of the people of the island.

The sole responsibility for the failure of the Southern Confederacy already rests on the shoulders of a half dozen individuals. Every few months some distinguished Southerner comes out with a bit of a revelation gives some fragment of unpublished history sees the burden shifted to his man and then sinks out of sight. Joe Johnston has been giving his views on the subject. Memminger ex Secretary of the Confederate Treasury is Johnston's man. He is accused of blundering and criminal carelessness. Johnston's direct charges have called out Memminger, who defends himself after this fashion:

The truth is that if General Johnston's recollections of history were as vivid as his knowledge of military tactics is great instead of censuring the financial administration of the Confederate government he would have discovered no instance on record where a war of such dimensions in a constantly decreasing territory has been sustained for four years by mere financial expedients, without the aid usually derived from taxes—for in the whole Confederate war but one general war tax was levied and a great portion of that was never collected.

THE LATEST ATTEMPT AT CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.—In the Pittsburg Leader of April 15th we find the annexed interview with General Negley on the passage of the bill abolishing the office of Appraiser of Merchandise at Portland and ten other ports:

"What is this movement to abolish the offices of mercantile appraisers at Washington?" queried the interviewer.

"It is the work of the New York ring," was the response.

"I see it is passed the House. What's the chances in the Senate?"

"The New York ring is a powerful ring but I think we will be able to have this bill defeated in the Senate."

"What makes you think so?"

"Well, I have reasons from private sources that lead me to believe that the Senate will kill it," and so saying, the interviewer was interrupted by a gentleman who wished to enjoy the pleasure of shaking the Congressional hand.

The Worcester Gazette, a staunch Republican journal alludes to the Connecticut election in this wise: "If the Republican leaders will not take the word of the independent newspapers, they had better get some Daniel to interpret the meaning of all these election bulletins." The Burlington Hawk-Eye an independent Republican paper, says on the same subject: "The defeat (in Connecticut) would not be the cause of much regret if there were any reasonable hope that it would teach Congress the lesson they are slow to learn. With Sanborn jobs and currency dilly-dallying while profligacy and extravagance are unchecked, ought we to expect anything better than Connecticut has given us?"

The Cincinnati Enquirer, speaking of Mississippi juries tells of a Vicksburg grand jury which was made up of such villainous stuff that the foreman on entering the court with his comrades at his heels handed to the presiding Judge a paper, which read as follows:

With a few exceptions the body of which I am foreman is so tainted with corruption degradation and vice that it is utterly impossible for the sacred objects and purposes of the law to be effectuated and carried out with an instrumentality so base and so utterly lost to every sense of conscience and shame. Has any United States Marshal lost any United States Grand Jury somewhere—anywhere?

The Portland Bulletin takes great interest in parading the Sacramento Union's objections to the Independent platform giving the Union its hearty indorsement. The point the Union makes is that the Independents of Oregon favor aid being given by the Government to the construction of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railway, and other similar enterprises needed to develop the resources of this State. No one who has watched the course of the Bulletin in its unprincipled and disreputable modes of opposing the people can be at all surprised at its joining the California papers in opposing the enterprises to which Oregon must look for prosperity.

Hugh McCulloch writes to the London Times in terms of the highest praise concerning the veto of the inflation bill and advises a return to the policy of contraction which he pursued when he was Secretary of the Treasury. The Times says in a leading editorial: "To British eyes, the apparently interminable inflation of the currency is a hazardous proceeding fraught with peril to the prosperity and even the unity of the American Commonwealth but it cannot be denied that no other country in the world could do what America has hitherto done with its finances. It is a law of the American nature to expand and develop in every possible direction."

Judge McArthur writes the editor of the News a letter to explain Mr LaDow's failure to participate in the Congressional canvass. The Judge says LaDow is only kept from taking part in the campaign by illness that he is "wretchedly ill being prostrated with ague and accompanying fevers" and that he hopes to be in the field soon. We do not wish to be thought unjustly severe in our judgment of the late Democratic candidate for Congress but we are laboring under a grave mistake if the ague that confines him to his little bed is not in his [illegible].

A Vienna dispatch says Mr John Jay our Minister to Austria started for the United States on the 20th inst. He is probably coming over to see how it was that Gen. Thomas B Van Buren found shelter from his Minister's wrath in the Kanagawa consulship.

In view of the tragedy enacted on a San Francisco street last evening it would seem as if it were about time that the people of that hoodlum beleaguered city were again studying Col Barnes' perplexing conundrum. "What shall we do with our boys?"

While the Sacramento Union indulges in ill natured criticisms upon the Independent platform the Call, a metropolitan journal pronounces it an admirable declaration of principles.

THE SANBORN CONTRACTS.—A Washington dispatch dated April 21 says: "Representative Foster's report which is expected to be adopted by the Committee of Ways and Means denounces the whole class of workers under the Sanborn contracts as marauders on the Treasury. Supervisors Hawley and Simmons' alacrity in aiding Sanborn is commented on adversely. The issue of secret commissions from the Treasury Department to Sanborn's agents is condemned as irregular and objectionable. Attention is called to the testimony of Richardson Sawyer and Banfield as showing remarkable methods of doing business which dissipate personal responsibility under the forms of mere routine. While thus censuring the conduct of these officers the report disavows any imputation of corrupt purposes to the Secretary or Assistant. An unconditional repeal of the law is recommended."

A GOOD WORD FOR THE CHIEF JUSTICE.—A Washington dispatch to the New York Tribune says of Chief Justice Waite's first opinion: The members of the Bar who heard it and his brethren on the Bench speak of it in eulogistic terms. Reverdy Johnson is complimentary in his remarks both as to the merits of the opinion and the manner of delivery. The Chief Justice delivered his first formal opinion considerably earlier than the late Chief Justice did.

INSANE WOMAN.—A Mrs Krug a German lady who resides on Mill street between [illegible] became insane late last evening and was so violent that her husband caused her to be removed to the city jail for safety. She was as furious as a tigress and it required several powerful men to hold her in the express wagon while she was being conveyed to the jail. After reaching the jail the unfortunate woman continued to rave for a long time. Finally from complete exhaustion she became quiet. Mrs Krug is aged about 35 years and is the mother of several children. She had evinced slight symptoms of insanity for some days before this last attack. Her insanity partakes of a religious mania and she alternately raves and sings religious hymns. This morning the poor woman will be examined before Judge Hamilton, and will doubtless be committed to the Asylum.

LINES RECONSTRUCTED.—Several gangs of men are engaged in reconstructing the telegraphic line in various places between Tacoma and Victoria where its condition renders it necessary. The reconstruction consists in substituting new poles insulators and wire where ever needed. Mr Richmond the general repairer is now engaged in constructing telegraph loops at several points. It is thought that all necessary work along the line from Portland to Victoria will be completed by the 15th of May. Immediately on the completion of the work Dr Plummer accompanied by Mr Richmond and a gang of men will start south. Work will then be at once begun on reconstructing the line between Roseburg and Yreka.

FALL.—Yesterday afternoon a Chinaman engaged in putting a roof on a shed to rear of the old Eureka saloon near the corner of Oak and Front streets fell to the ground a distance of nearly 13 feet. He remained unconscious for a few moments after falling and after coming to his senses was unable to rise. His companions came to his assistance and carried him to the house. We are unable to learn the extent of his injuries. Henry Johnson, a carpenter engaged in building a house in the [illegible] portion of the city, fell from a scaffold [illegible] which was at least twelve feet from the ground without sustaining any very serious [illegible]

RISING.—For some days past the Columbia river at Wallula has been rising at the rate of [illegible] inches a day. Yesterday morning the river at that point only lacked 2 inches of reaching the Lewiston mark. Long ere this the stage of water will admit of the passage of a boat to that point. The O S N Co will dispatch their first boat for Lewiston next Tuesday morning. Passengers will desire to take the connection above will have to leave Portland next Monday morning.

TRANSFERRED.—The Astor [illegible] last evening [illegible] the John L. Stephens [illegible] enough [illegible] to transfer a number of passengers from the [illegible] These passengers came from points [illegible] Sound and arrived by rail at Kalama [illegible] unable to reach this city prior to the departure of the steamer were compelled to run the chances of meeting her on the river.

ASSESSMENTS.—Assessor Dolan informs us that the taxpayers of the county are slowly sending in their sworn statements of property. About one third the taxable property of the county has thus far been represented. As the Assessor is allowed until the first Monday of August before closing his books the property owners are in no special haste about sending in their sworn statements.

REMAINS ESCORTED.—Yesterday afternoon the remains of the late Jabish Clement were escorted from the undertakers [illegible] to the steamer by the Relief Committee of Odd Fellows and members of the several Lodges to the number of about 80. Since death the body has been securely packed in ice and on being deposited in the metallic casket was found to be in a good state of preservation.

CITY.

HORSE STEALING.—J F Exline was tried at Oregon City during the present week, before Judge Bonham He took a rope with two handsome mares at the ends—for which the said Exline did not possess a duly executed bill of sale. The jury no doubt thought that taking the rope was all right but he had no legal claim to the mares They so decided and the Judge will pronounce sentence on the prisoner to-morrow morning We learn that Exline has numerous friends in California If that is the case, they may rest assured he will be well cared for at the State's expense! Both the mares and also the fatal rope belonged to Mr N N Robbins of Clackamas county A Mr J H Wright was also tried a few days ago for taking a halter strap to which unfortunately was attached a valuable horse belonging to Mr Holcomb who resides five miles from Oregon City In this case the jury decided that such actions should properly be characterized as horse stealing. To-morrow morning Wright will be interviewed in a legal manner by Judge Bonham. In both cases we are unable to say whether the doctor told these men to take something; as he advised the English thief to do in "Ten Thousand Miles Away" Certain it is they took more than they could get away with

Mrs Krug is aged about 35 years, and is the mother of several children She had evinced slight symptoms of insanity for some days before this late attack Her insanity partakes of a religious mania and she alternately raves and sings religious hymns This morning the poor woman will be examined before Judge Hamilton, and will likely be committed to the Asylum

LINES RECONSTRUCTED.—Several gangs of men are engaged in reconstructing the telegraphic line in various places between Tacoma and Victoria, where its condition renders it necessary The reconstruction consists in substituting new poles, insulators and wire where needed Mr Richmond the general repairer is now engaged in constructing telephone "loops" at several points It is thought that all necessary work along the line from Portland to Victoria will be completed by the 10th of May Immediately on the completion of this work Dr Plummer, accompanied by Mr Richmond and a gang of men will start South Work will then be at once begun on [illegible] the line between Roseburg and Yreka.

[illegible]—Yesterday afternoon a Chinaman engaged in putting a roof on a shed to rear of the old Eureka saloon near the corner of Oak and Front streets, fell to the ground, a distance of nearly 13 feet He remained unconscious for a few moments after falling, and after coming to his senses was unable to rise His companions came to his assistance and carried him to the house We are unable to learn the extent of his injuries Henry Johnson a carpenter engaged in building a house in the [illegible] portion of the city, fell from a scaffold which was at least twelve feet from the ground without sustaining any very serious injury

[illegible]—For some days past the Columbia river at Wallula has been rising at the rate of six inches a day Yesterday morning the river at that point only lacked 2½ inches of reaching the [illegible] mark Long ere this the stage of water will admit of the passage of a boat to that point. The O S N Co will dispatch the first boat for Lewiston next Tuesday morning. Passengers who desire to make the trip above will have to leave Portland [illegible] Monday morning

[illegible].—The Astoria boat last evening met the John L Stephens some miles below the city Both vessels halted long enough to transfer a number of passengers from the Sound to the ocean steamer These passengers came from points along the Sound and arrived by rail at Kalama and being unable to reach this city prior to the departure of the steamer, were compelled to run the chances of meeting her on the river

[illegible] THE COUNTY.—Assessor Dolan informs us that the taxpayers of the county are slowly sending in their sworn statements of property About one-third the taxable property of the county has thus far been represented. As the Assessor is allowed until the first Monday of August before closing his books the property owners are in no special haste [illegible] in their sworn statements

REMAINS ESCORTED.—Yesterday afternoon the remains of the late Jabish Clement were escorted from the undertaker's down to the steamer by the Relief Committee of Odd Fellows, and members of the several Lodges to the number of about 80 Since death the body has been securely packed in ice and on being deposited in the metallic casket was found to be in a good state of preservation

ASSAYED WELL.—A few weeks ago Mr J H Fisk received a quantity of gold dust directly from the Stickeen mines for assay. He found the yield very fair being $16 50 per ounce By the California, 15-ounces more of dust were received. This yielded even better than the first amount, being $17 per ounce The dust is coarse, and quite free from other metals.

RELIGIOUS LOCAL PERSONAL AND GENERAL

[From the Sentinel]

The Hibernian Benevolent Society will meet on Monday evening next at their hall at the usual hour

Rev F De Roo has recently been visiting the different portions of his parish in Baker county and vicinity

Sunday next at 4 o'clock the usual meeting of the St Vincent de Paul Society will be held A full attendance is requested

Religious services for May commence this evening in the cathedral and will be continued every evening during the present month commencing at 8 o'clock except on Sundays when services will be held as usual at 7:30

The St Joseph's German Catholic Society will meet on Sunday next, the 3d inst at o'clock at which time the annual election of officers will take place and in view of the important business to be transacted it is hoped every member will be prompt in attendance

Right Rev Charles J Seghers Bishop of Vancouver's Island accompanied by Rev A J Brabant left Victoria on the 14th of April for the purpose of visiting all the Indian tribe scattered along the coast This visit will necessitate the Bishop's absence for about two months

On Sunday April 19th, Rev J B A Brondel of Steilacoom celebrated High Mass at Tacoma This is the first time Catholic services have been held in the future great city of the West Quite a respectable congregation was in attendance The question of building a church there is being agitated and may be carried into effect if ground can be gratuitously secured for that purpose

On Sunday the 26th of April the Rt Rev Bishop A M A Blanchet Bishop of Nesqualy solemnly consecrated a splendid life size statue of St Joseph at the cathedral Vancouver On the following day the statue was placed in the niche prepared for it over the main entrance to the new hospital and orphanage of the Sisters of Charity

[From the P C Advocate]

Mr J E Hurford and wife left for Puget Sound Wednesday morning in the hope of improving their health by a short sojourn near the sounding sea

Rev T H Pearne D D, has been compelled by the continued ill health of Mrs Pearne to resign his office as District Agent of the American Colonization Society A great loss to the Society

The following are the appointments next Sunday for Milwaukie circuit Rev I Dillon at Mt Tabor School House at 11 o'clock, Rev C Kelly at Whitaker's School House same hour Rev J Fxon at St John's at 5½ o'clock P M Owing to Bro Hoberg's feeble health, it is necessary for the present to drop Pleasant Valley appointment and hereafter he will preach at Marshfield and Union School House on the second Sunday and at Lee Chapel and Milwaukie on the 4th Sundays at usual hours

The anniversary of the Oregon State Bible Society will be held at the First Presbyterian church in this city on the 13th day of May, 1874, at half past 10 A M. The Executive Committee of the Society have through the Secretary Gen L. B. Babbitt taken special pains to call attention to the approaching Anniversary We hope the influence of every friend of this noble cause throughout the State will be given toward securing a full attendance from each place Pastors will do well to announce it from their pulpits

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Special attention is called to the advertisement of the Union Insurance Company for which Mr L D Backenstos is the resident agent This Company is prompt in adjusting all its losses We commend the institution to the careful attention of those desirous of insuring

The ware-rooms of the Oregon Furniture Manufacturing Company have been thrown open to the public, and the Company is now prepared to attend to all orders The manufactory will soon be in active operation, and the Company will be able to supply their own manufactures We refer our readers to the card elsewhere, and expect to speak again of the establishment at an early day

Agreeable to previous announcement, Mr B L Stone the popular jeweler, makes known to the public what he has been doing while absent in San Francisco His new stock is now opened, and the display is simply gorgeous Mr Stone has spared neither time nor pains to select the very latest productions known to the artistic skill of the manufacturer He has perfected such arrangements as enable him to offer to his customers all the newest styles produced by the manufacturers and at the earliest moment His sole aim is to provide his patrons with the very best ware in his line, and he proposes to give the fullest satisfaction, as his business connections with San Francisco and Eastern manufacturers enable him to do so We assure our readers that they will find his stock varied and exceedingly attractive Observe his display windows since they have been newly fitted up

LETTER FROM FT. WRANGEL.

We have kindly been permitted to make the following extracts from a private letter written from Fort Wrangel to a gentleman of this city The letter bears date April 19th and says

We arrived here on Thursday 16th after a very pleasant passage all well most of the boys in fine spirits The news from the diggings is about the same as we had before I left only a little exaggerated

The river is not yet open but expected to be soon There are about 100 men in the mines and 200 or 300 more on the way up the river and at Buck's bar Those on the river side had to stop owing to ice becoming rotten and unsafe

Provisions are very scarce in the mines but there is now a large supply on the way At this place (Ft Wrangel) ground coffee 50 cts per pound; fair brown sugar 20 cts bacon, 18 cts flour $5 per 100 pounds other things in proportion You had better buy your supplies at Portland or at Victoria Miners supplies come free of duty—only get the American consul at Victoria to certify to the bill of goods He will explain it all to you

I have purchased an interest in a canoe and expect to start up in a few days or as soon as the ice breaks up

Thermometer ranges from 40° to 52° during the day and night I can see the mountains back from the coast, they present vast heaps of snow We gave the officers of the California a complimentary benefit and a little puff which they well deserved They do not charge miners any freight on their private supplies

W H C

PERSONAL.

A J Dufur Esq was a passenger on the Stephens He goes to San Francisco on business connected with the Commission and Purchasing Agency recently established in this city under the auspices of the Patrons of Husbandry His object is to make arrangements with several merchants of San Francisco During his brief absence Mr Matlock and his son Harrison Dufur will attend to all business

NOTICE.

There will be a meeting of the Nominating Committee of the people of Multnomah county in Philharmonic Hall on Saturday the 2d day of May next at 1 P M

GEO WOODWARD Sec'y

For a fine picture go to Dennis's new photograph room Yamhill and First street Employs one of the best (lately from the East) photographers and retouchers in Oregon Sure to please all who give him a trial Only one flight of stairs

The stock of [illegible] who can lay in large and varied stocks of goods should be able to afford his patrons excellent opportunities to purchase just what they want at low figures This is just what JOS KOHN [illegible] National Bank invariably does [illegible] portion are varied and the prices marked down [illegible] accommodated [illegible]

SPRING STYLES.—A thorough inspection of the latest spring styles in Clothing and Furnishing Goods by Mr J D Scharf of J O'NEIL & CO while in San Francisco has resulted in the election of everything new and that firm have just completed opening the new stock Their customers and the public generally are invited to call and examine the new arrivals Mr Scharf's selects expressly to suit Portland trade and the new goods will be sure to please the most fastidious Call

The public mind is occupied over the late defalcation about the P D C S L R R and where to procure that needed article—Clothing There should be no worrying over this matter while it is known that BECK & WALDMAN are offering a large stock of Spring Styles which they propose to sell at once to make room for new goods They can accommodate all Boys Clothing a specialty

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Oriflamme will be the next steamer.

Ball this evening at Good Templar Hall

The Astoria boat reports no vessels off the bar

Only sailing vessel now in port—the Portland

Base ball clubs are backward about coming forward

We have heard of several malignant cases of spring fever in the community

Masons were compelled to knock off yesterday in consequence of the rain

Excavation has commenced for Dekum's new building on North Front street

The steamer California is advertised to sail for the north next Thursday at 4 o'clock

Spring has thrown an emerald mantle over the surrounding hills or words to that effect

The broad bosom of the Wallamet is slowly expanding which is another name for rising

The Stark street cistern has sprung a leak and the pumps were running all day yesterday

The basement of H W Corbett's building, adjoining the Masonic Temple is nearly finished

Long trailing dresses do not meet with fashionable favor just now—muddy cross walks is what the trouble is

The steamer Ajax arrived at Astoria last Wednesday morning. She proceeded to pass out to sea without delay

Crusading still moves forward It seems to have lost much of its original novelty and attracts little or no public attention

The stone foundation of S C Reed's large brick building on Front street is completed Brick work will follow in a few days

The late heavy rains, it is thought will damage the prospects of the fruit crops by prematurely beating off the blossoms

Swallows have flown homeward some time ago and are busily employed in constructing their nests about the cornices of various brick buildings

Dennis Corcoran who was severely injured on Wednesday by a cave in the wall of the Stark street cistern is still scarcely able to leave his bed

The steamer carried away a large list of passengers Many are coming into the State and departing if the passenger lists each way serve as an indication

Love and Jordan the two men who took by mistake a horn of concentrated lye instead of Cutter's best have almost wholly recovered from the effects

Mr Hamilton Boyd received by the last steamer a very fine blooded dog This animal came directly from Chicago, where he sold for the fabulous price of $150

That universal defective flue came near creating a fire yesterday morning in the Chinese quarters to the rear of the Odd Fellows Temple The flue was yanked down in a trice and the fire extinguished without sounding an alarm

The liquor dealers of this city held another meeting last evening As it was held with closed doors against the reportorial fraternity we are consequently unable to lay the proceedings before our readers

The steamship California on her late trip up the coast took on board a deck load of canoes at Victoria for Fort Wrangel A part of them belonged to the passengers and the remainder were taken to Indians who intend using them in the passenger trade between Fort Wrangel and Buck's Bar

FASHION NOTES.

Black will continue in favor for the day costumes, but it will be less worn at night than heretofore

Black alpacas of the buffalo, beaver otter and sable brands are more popular this season than for several years past

French drap d'ete is the fashionable summer cloth for wraps It comes in several shades blue, blue black and brown

Invisible purple gloves are worn by ladies in mourning in preference to the dead black gloves that are so apt to crack

The materials used on hats, are all of the most delicate shades of silk and are soft and pliant rather than rich or heavy

For communion black silk made after the same fashion should be worn, only the skirt should be plain and the plaitings should be lined with pearl colored silk

The 'Louis' suit is the neatest design for suits in pique for boys under five Plain white or buff pique should be used, and the outlines defined by a braided trimming

Handkerchiefs are nearly all made with fancy borders But few of the plain white ones are seen while those not embroidered are finished in all the fancy colors used for other spring and summer goods

Gold embroidery and gold lace are worn on evening dresses A white faille dress was recently ornamented with this trimming as follows The lace encircled the shoulders like a fan, and chevrons were made on the front of the skirt Gold tassels formed the ends of the gold embroidered sash

Shoes still match the dress in color for house wear but for promenade black kid boots but toned at the sides are popular For home wear high black satin with bars across the instep and almost to the top with colored silk stockings that match the dress are the handsomest articles to wear

A pretty confirmation dress of white poplin is made with a demi train skirt trimmed with a twelve inch Godet plaited flounce, lined with white silk upon the edges A close cut redingote draped closely back with a white gros grain sash and finished with a simple fold in narrow standing collar, plaited at the back only coat sleeves

Chatelaines for parasols fans etc are become articles of expensive luxury They consist usually of short chains of ivory mother of pearl, or oxydized silver, furnished on the lower rings with hooks which serve for holding the articles to be carried Generally a medallion pin or a rosette of the same material as the chain is caught in the belt, while a clasp or hook secures it there

SOCIAL EVENTS.

This evening Anderson's Drum Corps will give a ball at Good Templar Hall corner of Alder and Third street Until within a few days it was the intention to give the ball at the Armory Hall but the Committee of Arrangements subsequently determined to secure the hall above mentioned for that purpose The object of this ball is to raise a sufficient sum to enable the boys to procure uniforms A number of tickets have been disposed of and the prospects are flattering that there will be a good attendance Good music will be furnished on the occasion Nothing has been omitted by the Juvenile Committee of Arrangements which can contribute to the success of the affair The object is very laudable and we would bespeak for the 'boys' a crowded house

FACTS

Are Stubborn Things!!

IT IS A FACT

That BRADLEY, MARSH & CO. are now doing the leading Dry Goods business of Portland.

IT IS A FACT

That they sell Goods wonderfully cheap.

IT IS A FACT

That their facilities for purchasing cannot be excelled by any House on the Coast.

IT IS A FACT

That their Stock is now replete in every particular.

IT IS A FACT

That their DRESS DEPARTMENT for extent of variety and moderation in prices, is without a rival, even in the largest cities in America.

IT IS A FACT

That they sell all DOMESTIC GOODS at cost of importation.

IT IS A FACT

That Cash buyers can save 25 per cent by purchasing at their Store.

IT IS A FACT

That BRADLEY, MARSH & CO. are not impelled by the madding crowds' ignoble strife to gain wealth for Wealth's sake, regardless of the means employed to compass that end. With contemplation's sober eye they can foresee, with regret, the baneful effects of this all-absorbing passion evinced even in our rulers, as shown by the recent attempt at inflation, and which but for the wise and manly course of our worthy President, would have inflicted disastrous consequences on the country. Their desire is to build up a business, the growth and magnitude of which shall be alike honorable to themselves and creditable to the intelligence of the enlightened community that patronizes them, and to whose best interests they are devoted.

With all his senses full of eager heat
And rosy years that stood expectant by
To buckle the winged sandals on their feet
He that was friends with earth and all her sweet
Took with both hands unsparingly
Truly this life is precious to the root
And good the feel of grass beneath the foot
To lie in buttercups and clover bloom
Tenants in common with the bees
And watch the white clouds drift through gulfs of trees
Is better than long waiting in the tomb
Only once more to feel the coming spring
As the birds feel it when it makes them sing
Only once more to see the moon
Through leaf fringed abbey arches of the elms
Curve her mild sickle in the West
Sweet with the breath of haycocks were a boon
Worth any promise of soothsayer realms
Or casual hope of being elsewhere blest
To take December by the beard
And crush the creaky snow with springy foot
While overhead the North s dumb streamers shoot
Till winter fawn upon the cheek endeared
Then the long evening ends
Lingered by cosy chimney nooks
With high companionship of books
Or slippered talk of friends
And sweet habitual looks—
Is better than to stop the ears with dust
Too soon the spectre comes to say Thou must
—James Russell Lowell in May [illegible]

A SOLITARY TWIN

THE FAT CONTRIBUTOR'S STRANGE ACCOUNT OF HIM

The 'Fat Contributor furnished the Utica Observer the following strange story of a "twin "

'There was a woman out West who gave birth to one twin—just one, that's all there was of him She never had another solitary twin so long as she lived He was a melancholy child from the first, and wore such a lonesome look He always seemed to be watching and listening for somebody who never came He appeared to realize that he wasn't all together—that he was a kind of a human parenthesis with one bracket gone—an mated dumb-bells and one missing—a pair' that couldn't beat deuces and hardly worth drawing to He used to moan in his sleep and paw around on his pillow for his missing brother When that boy grew up he was different from any boy I ever knew—that is to say, any one boy. He seemed more like two boys—at least he was altogether two-boys terous for one. If he had a fight it was with a boy twice as big as he was, for he seemed to feel, somehow, as though there were two of him, or ought to be He always managed to get two pieces of pie at the table, just as if one was for the other of him who wasn't there and there was a thin pretence of taking care of it for him but he always took care to eat it I noticed He only half learned his lessons, and double entry book keeping nigh about set him crazy because, as I told you there wasn't half of him there, and he couldn't double entry He wouldn't sleep with any other boy because, he said, it crowded him He grew up, but he never got married Once or twice he attempted to court a girl but left her when it was only half done, as though that other twin of his would be along and court the other half. I don't know what became of him I heard that he died from sheer loneliness, but I only believe half I hear about that twin anyhow. If he be dead you can bet he is only half dead.

Beecher's Interviewer Interviewed.—During the progress of the Brooklyn Congregational Council, newspaper reporters were anxious to hear what Beecher thought of the matter, and as the distinguished clergyman himself was unapproachable recourse was had to those who were fortunate enough to gain access to his house Thus the Sun reporter in his peregrinations among the servants in Mr Beecher's kitchen, struck the following rich lead

I am a plumber Friday I was sent to fix a pipe in Mr Beecher's house He came in and got bossing around just as I was making a soft joint It made me mad, and I said 'Who is doing this job?' He said 'You and he smiled so good that I felt as if I had known him all my life So I made bold to say, 'Mr Beecher, what do you think of the council?'" And he began to laugh and then he said 'There was a Scotch minister who had been paying attention to a young woman for four years and one night he said, 'Mary, I ha' been comin here four years, and I ha' never had a kiss yit' And Mary said, 'I know it and providing it is done in the right way Of course'—and they knelt and asked a blessing Then he solemnly kissed her and he said, 'Oh! lass, but that was good Let us return thanks ' My solder was all cold when he got through and I felt like talking So I says "Mr Beecher what do you think of Budington" And he says, 'You fix that pipe' I guess he knows what he is about

Obituary Senator.—One of the most valuable members of the Senate is Henry B Anthony His specialty is dead men In promoting living issues and bringing vital measures he has no particular influence and concentrates the faintest shadow of interest But when a senator answers to the gavel-rap of death, Anthony gets his work in As a mellow eulogist of the flown spirit, and sympathetic catalogue of the great departed's good qualities, he is better than a tombstone cutter He pronounced five or six separate panegyrics on Foote, and was first on his feet to build a mealy tribute to Sumner He is now preparing a longer and more elaborate encomium of Sumner which he hopes to recite at an early day and has the points for oratorical epitaphs on every remaining member of the Senate These he has filed away in his mind as certain editors have private pigeon holes in which they keep obituaries of prominent mortals Anthony saunters sadly up and down the aisles, turning a moist eye on his various associates and wondering how long it will be ere he can have a chance to say something nice over their bones The eulogy spasm was upon him so strong the other day that he arose and commenced talking about the graces and amiable character of a Senate clerk who died ten years ago.—Wash Cor Chicago Times

Masonry in England —To some people it may be a startling fact that in the British Parliament there are 133 Freemasons—fifty-six in the House of Lords and seventy seven in the Commons Fifteen of the Freemasons in the lower House are noblemen and there are also ten sons of peers who are not in Parliament who belong to this mystic order The Prince of Wales heads the list of Freemasons who have seats in Parliament, and Mr Whalley brings up the rear Curiously enough Mr Newdegate is not a Freemason, though one would have thought the enmity of Rome to the order would have induced him to join it. One of the bishops he of Peterborough is a Mason, seven dukes, eight marquises, seventeen earls four viscounts, and seventeen lords make up the list of peers who wear the apron and have ridden the goat Neither Mr Gladstone nor Mr Disraeli is a mason—probably for the same reason that the Duke of Wellington never learned to dance

Not to be Caught Napping.—It is quite evident that the editor of the Chicago Times, who has been for months publishing letters calling upon himself to kill a certain Dr Johnson, understands the situation sufficiently not to lose any benefit to be derived from the act so far as his paper is concerned A reporter of one of the evening papers called on him and asked him if he had shot Dr Johnson The old man replied "Young man, do you think I am d—d fool enough to do it in time for the evening papers?"

The local money market exhibits but little activity at present The banks supply customers who have claims on them quite readily but many of the loans now made are by outside parties who are holding quite considerable amounts in the market at better rates than such offers have generally been made We learn that the same state of facts exists throughout the Willamette and in several counties farmers are offering 1 [illegible] on one or two years time at 10@12 per cent per annum a condition of affairs which is possessed of very encouraging features and augers well for the future development of the resources of the State which these sums will to a large extent go to aid

The S F Commercial Herald in its mining review expresses the opinion that the prediction of a prosperous year in the gold and silver mines is justified by a variety of facts In the first place we are likely to have that prime factor of production—water—in fuller and longer supply than ever before there is a cumulation of snow upon the mountains now impacted into an almost solid mass of ice insuring water from one to two months longer than usual through this cause alone we may safely count on an augmented bullion yield equivalent to 20 or 30 per cent The presence of water in many localities where in ordinary years little or none is to be had will enable washing to be carried on here with good results as the most of these places having been but little worked still remain extremely rich Then, some new ditches have been completed and will this summer be delivering water for the first time while others have had their capacities materially increased through enlargement or the construction of new or extended reservoirs A number of large tail washing sluices have lately been put down and are only now about to commence work Some mills and smelting establishments will be added to those heretofore running A multitude of new mines, both placer and ore producing will be opened up while a great variety of gold silver and labor saving agents implements and processes will come into use the whole so strengthening the forces already in the field as to insure a marked increment of the precious metals in the immediate future

A Competitor in the English Grain Market

The Senate Transportation Committee have prepared for presentation with their forthcoming report, a statement in regard to the quantity of grain in bushels sent from Russia and the United States respectively to Great Britain in two periods of four years as follows

	1860-64.	1868-70
From Russia	17 736 809	11 967 092
From United States	12 047 125	116 4[illegible] 800

This exhibit shows that Russia is fast becoming a formidable competitor with us for the European grain trade. A new railroad also has recently been completed in that empire between Odessa and the Black Sea to Koenigsberg on the Baltic, a distance of somewhat over nine hundred miles while several branch roads are in process of construction tapping the great grain growing regions and affording ample facilities for the transportation of crops to the sea board Hence the importance of immediate persistent and concerted action on the part of the people of the United States in the effort to increase and cheapen their transportation facilities as nothing but the weights of high freights and scarce tonnage can prevent this country maintaining its supremacy in the matter of supplying England with bread

Miscellaneous

The Salem Record of yesterday publishes a table of the exports of wheat and flour from the Columbia river to Europe from July 1 1870 to January 1, 1874 prepared by R C Kinney & Co of Salem, The table contains some errors but as showing the amounts approximately we give the following recapitulation In 1870 6 vessels carried 4,759 tons in 1871 11 vessels carried 9,328 tons in 1872 17 vessels carried [illegible] tons and in 1873 39 vessels carried 38,256 tons Total 6[illegible] 538 tons not as much by near 800,000 bushels as has been shipped to all ports with in the past nine months

The shipments of wheat and flour from Oregon during the harvest year so far would have more than loaded 92 ships of 1 000 tons each

A Cincinnati paper of April 18th says It is unpleasant to continue reporting the unfavorable condition of the iron trade but it is best to know the facts and accept the issues squarely If there is an overproduction of pig iron it can easily be seen that the remedy suggests itself and those furnaces must be discontinued which are not able to prosper at near the present figures It is not probable that high prices will overrule again excepting spasmodically and for very short periods and furnace men should make their plans accordingly

The number of miles of railroad in the United States at the close of 1873 was 71 564 The amount of capital stock $[illegible] total debt $1 99[illegible] 597 total cost, $3 [illegible] 416 958 Gross traffic for 1873 $478 88[illegible] 557 net receipts over operating expenses $174 350 913 The last two items relate to [illegible] miles all that are reported on which the net income applicable to interest and dividends is equals $3 [illegible] per mile

An effort is making in Congress to introduce a bill authorizing the United States and European Steamship Navigation Company to construct fifteen iron steamships of not less than three thousand tons registry each They ask the Government to indorse $10 000 000 of its bonds for twenty years at six per cent. $800,000 for each of the first five $700 000 for each of the second five and $600 000 for the third five of said ships to be paid in installments as the work progresses There is the unmistakable odor of a job in the measure

While the homestead law passed by the House of Representatives is admitted to be in some respects a good law it is sharply criticised on account of defects. Under it Government land which has at any time been offered for sale by auction and, failing to give the lowest price set upon it beforehand has remained unsold can now be bought by any one disposed to pay for it that lowest price

Home Produce Market

WHEAT—The absence of ships to load grain which we note in this port now fully accounts for a lack of activity among exporters who though occasionally buying lots are not at all anxious to make heavy orders for future delivery Several of our State mills have closed in order to renovate before the incoming of the next crop and their owners are therefore out of the market at present Of the mills running we hear of two or three in need of wheat to work up so as to fill orders but they only take choice lots, and pay a round price say $1 [illegible] 75 ℔ cental The latest news from the several counties in this valley is to the effect that the growing crop promises exceedingly well, and a very low estimate of the surplus in the State of the yield places it at at least four million bushels and we confidently expect the shipment of $5,000 000 worth of grain and flour from Oregon before the 1st of August 1874

FLOUR—The supply here is not large and with a fair amount of local trade during the reduced prices are firmly sustained We still quote at $5 [illegible] ℔ bbl for best brands of extra good outside and country brands $5@[illegible] fine $4@4 2[illegible] superfine $4 50 The shipping demand just now is dull

OATS—This cereal feels the effect of the advance of the season and begins to droop while those who have heretofore handled large quantities are disposed to refuse any heavy lots as it is not known to what complexion the market may yet come all admitting that the indications are against any revival of prices before harvest Our present quotations are 4[illegible]@43 cents ℔ bushel

BARLEY—A few small lots have been received this week to supply the local trade Prices are unchanged and no shipment occur Quotations are furnished at $1 40@1 [illegible] ℔ 100 lbs

FEEDS—Stocks in jobbers hands are lessening in bulk but the local demand as well as the call for shipping being less prices remain weak at $1[illegible] per ton for bran $20@2[illegible] for chops middlings etc

HAY—Good baled Timothy is not very abundant and sells rapidly for $1[illegible]@$1[illegible] per ton loose $1[illegible]@$11

POTATOES—The old crop is becoming pretty well worked off and receipts here during the past few days have fallen off We quote best varieties [illegible] cents per bushel common and low land [illegible]@60 cents

ONIONS—Supplies of the old crops are short and the demand fairly brisk at [illegible] per hundred pounds

APPLES—The last year crop is now about exhausted some few lots of inferior varieties only now coming to hand Price s nominal at [illegible] ℔ box

BACON—Sides are well supplied and prices have a weakening tendency being quotable at 10@11 cents per pound the latter figure for the roughly smoked and neatly trimmed Hams quotable at [illegible] cents Shoulders in fair demand at [illegible] cents

LARD—The market is unchanged since our last report prices being the same 14½ cents for that in kegs or tins the supply of the latter being in excess

DRIED FRUIT—The trade is without any particular animation apples quotable at [illegible] in sacks and [illegible] in kegs Plums in limited supply Plums both pitless and with pits are unchanged

BUTTER—The market is in better supply and for most grades prices are not so good as one week ago We quote at [illegible] ℔ which are the limits except for a few lots of fancy dairy which secure more

CHEESE—Importations make up most in the market Best brands of Oregon made command [illegible]@22c ℔ lb

LARD—We quote fresh Oregon made in tins 13½ cents ℔ lb in kegs 13c The demand is dull

EGGS—The inquiry is full as good as at our last report and fresh receipts rather scarcer We quote 14@1[illegible] per doz

POULTRY—Receipts are adequate to the local demand and prices rather weaker full grown chickens quotable at $4 per dozen ducks $[illegible] geese $[illegible]

FRESH MEATS—The supply is larger but composed of many poor lots which sell at a considerable reduction in prices for fat stock We quote choice beef on foot [illegible] dressed hogs [illegible] mutton sheep per head $[illegible]

HIDES—No change in prices trade active and shipments large

WOOL—We quote best lots nominal [illegible] mixed 18 [illegible]
